

EDUCATING THE NEXT GENERATION:

Pehchaan role in Sustainable Development.

How Pehchaan has taken part in providiing education to girls-

1. We have supported Educational Needs for over 1000+ Girls Students over the Years.
2. We have supported them with Financial Need as well so that they can Complete their Education without worrying about supporting their family.
3. We provide Counseling to our students to introduce them to different opportunities and importance of Education so that they can get success in whichever field they choose.

KEY TAKE AWAYS:

- Many girls in India are married at very young age and drop out of school after they complete their primary education due to societal pressure of early pregnancies.
- Child labour and lack of feminine hygiene products keep girls from coming to school, and contribute to the literacy rate and continuous lack of education.

Do You Know?

The average female literacy rate through the world is 79.9% and men is 89.2%.

India lingers behind at 62.3% for women and 80% for men.

NOTE: However, these statistics vary across different regions, especially in Rural areas less than half of the girls are able to complete grade 10.

DID YOU KNOW?

In Indian only 1 in every 3 children begins working at age of 14, there by falling to complete even their primary education. India a lower middle class country has a mixed picture when it comes to elementary droupouts rates

Story of Zubaida

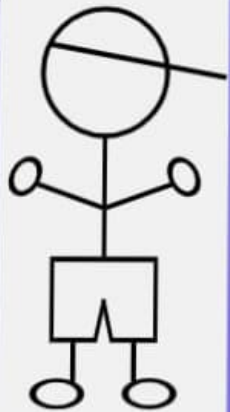

Don't you guys want to know how our very first kids of the NGO are doing now? Well, here's the story of Zubaida - First student of Pehchaan The Street School. She talked about how at the very start only 5-6 children were there and Akash bhaiya (Akash Tandon - founder of Pehchaan The Street School), Bhoomika didi, Monica didi, Kanika didi, used to come teach them, now at her center there are more than 150 underprivileged children and many volunteers to teach them. She further elaborates that it was always a joy coming here as they used to get free education, stationary, lunchbox, water bottles etc. That's what motivated them to come in the first place. But later on, they wanted to stay because of the volunteers only. Now she completed her 12th with good marks and is currently going to college with the guidance of Monica didi

STORY OF WAIZ !

A student of Amity University from Kashmir, who initially joined Pehchaan The Street School, only for improving his resume but stayed longer because of the underprivileged children. He talked about how our children are always so curious to learn, and they have been doing numerous different activities together. Further, he added that it warms his heart to come here every weekend and spend time with the underprivileged children . He encouraged others to volunteer, as this experience really softens one heart
